Pontus Ingman, CIO at Borenius

10:00-10:30

ENGINEERING LEGAL DELIVERY

As client expectations shift toward leaner and on-demand legal solutions, progressive law firms must operate more like product companies than traditional practices. This session explores how one firm is rebuilding its operational backbone - leveraging new ERP and DMS platforms - to industrialise legal delivery at scale.

11.00-11.30:

The Intelligent DMS in Action: AI, Interoperability, and Microsoft 365

The rise of the Intelligent DMS is transforming how legal professionals work, collaborate, and deliver value. Join expert Technology Consultants, Fiona Quirke and Josh Buchanan from NetDocuments, as they explore the latest innovations shaping the future of document management.

From AI-powered search and interoperability with platforms like Legora, to unlocking new efficiencies with Microsoft365, you'll see how an Intelligent DMS can drive smarter workflows, deeper insights, and better client outcomes.

Join us to gain fresh insights and practical takeaways on the future of document management - and how your firm can harness the Intelligent DMS to work smarter, faster, and ahead of the curve.

DATA PRIVACY, SECURITY AND INNOVATION - AN ENTREPRENEURS VIEW

Regulation kills innovation. No. It's a bad culture that kills innovation.

Today, in the EU, we think that everything that is not especially allowed, is forbidden. When we change the point of view to the goals of the AI Act, making AI transparent and to protect people from manipulation, everything gets easier. You can create high risk systems if you know what happens inside your system and your company's value is not based on selling the data.

In my talk, I open several real world examples, in which high risk cases are approached differently and in a way that respects users' and data owners' rights. But are they eventually legal? Come and join the show.

Founder, Chairman, Harri Ketamo, HeadAI

14:00-14:30: COFFEE BREAK – MEET THE SPONSORS AND PEER EXCHANGE

14.30-14:50

TEXT PRECISION OVER PROMISES

Legal AI is brimming with promise. It's a text-rich, high-stakes field tailor-made for large language models. Yet most tools on the market stumble for one simple reason: they try to do too much at the expense of precision. Vesence flips the legal AI model on its head. Instead of generating new text that might be wrong, it uses AI to ensure that what's already written is right.

Co-Founder & COO, Ludvig Swanström, Vesence

14.50-16:00

THE NEW LEGAL PROFESSIONAL – DRIVING CHANGE FROM WITHIN

This session explores how legal professionals can lead internal transformation by rethinking legal work, workflows, and structures using modern technology, AI, and human-centered strategies.
